Your Summer. Well Spent. As one of the largest and most varied summer programs in New England, UMass Boston, Boston's only public university, offers a boundless array of choices for summer study.

Undergraduate and graduate courses. With over 700 course sections in more than 60 subjects to choose from, take a course to get ahead on your degree (students from other schools welcome!), prepare for a possible return to university study, or enroll in studies for professional growth. Our course matrix gives you most of the information you need to register.

International study. UMass Boston offers students the chance to participate in two- to four-week long global study programs, bringing you face-to-face with unique cultures, people, politics, histories, languages, arts, and archaeological treasures. Every program is accompanied by an experienced UMass Boston faculty member. New for Summer 2013: Food & Culture in Italy! Travel to Tuscany for conversazione e cucina - learn to speak Italian while learning to prepare Italian dishes in the dazzling city of Siena.

Field study, Nantucket programs and summer institutes. Field study programs give students an opportunity to go beyond the classroom and get their hands dirty, whether it's studying archaeology on a local estate or marine biology on Nantucket. Our summer institutes are unique opportunities for educators and scholars to explore a subject area in depth.

Professional training and non-credit programs. Non-credit offerings include our popular English as a Second Language programs as well as graduate test preparation courses: GMAT, GRE, LSAT and MTEL.

Commitment to Sustainability. Through a growing body of green programs and courses, across many disciplines, and in green campus practices, our students, faculty and staff are moving from awareness to action on environmental issues.

Courses which include topics on sustainability will be identified with this icon:

Fall 2013 Classes begin September 6

Special Summer Programs

25 International Summer Study
28 Field Study
29 Nantucket Programs
30 Summer Institutes

PROGRAMS ARE NEAR CAPACITY. Inquire with program directors for availability.

International Programs

UMass Boston's summer international programs will expose you to an array of unique cultures, people, politics, histories, languages, arts, and archaeological treasures. Every program is accompanied by an experienced UMass Boston professor.

Please note that program fees do not cover all costs associated with the program; for more details, go to caps.umb.edu/international, or contact Jennifer Goode-Sollis (Jennifer.Goode@umb.edu; 617.287.6995). Passports will be required for most programs and visas will be required for travel to China.

To apply for any of these programs, please contact Jennifer Goode-Sollis (Jennifer.Goode@umb.edu; 617.287.6995).

The following programs are subject to change at any time due to circumstances beyond our control; this includes any and all fees, dates, itinerary, and program activities. We will do our reasonable best to inform all applicants of any changes in as timely a manner as possible.

Field School in Prehistoric Archaeology in Belize

This summer the Anthropology Department will offer a field school on Mayan archaeology in Belize, Central America. The project area and field camp are located in a tropical rainforest within the Programme for Belize Conservation Area—a protected reserve for flora, fauna, and archaeological remains. This summer season will include a number of different investigations, such as support population studies (survey, mapping, and excavation) at several localities, small site excavation, and the excavation of agricultural features

Belize, Central America June 16-July 10

$3095 (undergrad), $3425 (grad)
6 credits (ANTH 485 or 685)

For program details, contact:
Professor Lauren A. Sullivan
lauren.sullivan@umb.edu; 617.287.6850

Application deadline: April 15. Applications received after this date will be considered if space is available.

Caribbean Studies Summer Institute: Caribbean Society and Culture in Comparative Perspective

This program offers students an interdisciplinary approach integrating sociological, anthropological, and historical perspectives, to the study of Puerto Rican and Caribbean society and culture. Students will be introduced to key social-scientific concepts such as race, ethnicity, nation, culture, and their relevance or irrelevance in the attempt to understand Caribbean cultures and identities. The program combines classroom instruction with field experience, including presentations by guest speakers and visiting multiple Caribbean islands.

Jointly directed and taught by Jorge Capetillo-Ponce, UMass Boston; Luis Galanes, University of Puerto Rico at Cayey; Julian Jefferies, California State University at Fullerton.

Cayey and Vieques, Puerto Rico; St. Croix and St. Thomas, Virgin Islands June 4-July 5

Program fee is $4505
9 credits (ANTH 274, SOCIOL 321L, and either ANTH 478 or SOCIOL 478)

Professor Jorge Capetillo-Ponce
jorge.capetillo@umb.edu; 617.287.6284

Application deadline: April 26

China Today: Culture, History, and Politics

An extraordinary opportunity to learn firsthand about China. The focus will be on important current issues that include economic development, urban-rural divide, regional diversity, environmental challenge, and popular culture. While the focus will be on contemporary China, students will also be introduced to some major events in twentieth century Chinese history, such as the rise of "oriental Paris" Shanghai in the early 20th century, the founding of the Chinese Communist Party in the 1920s, and China's war experience during WWII. As an integral part of the program, students will also visit major historical sites

Beijing, Shangai, Yangtze River, Chonqing June 8-June 23

$2498
3 credits (HIST 478 or EASIAN 480)

$550, Optional Independent Study
3 credits (HIST 488 or EASIAN 478)

Professor Weili Ye, weili.ye@umb.edu.

Application deadline: April 12

Entrepreneurship in the US and China

This course will offer students an in-depth look at how business is conducted in China, the impact of Chinese culture on business practice, and potential business opportunities that exist there.

Participans will visit three "capital" cities in China: Beijing, Shanghai and Chongqing, a "capital" city for western China, where you can witness firsthand the economic growth in China. Students are not expected to have any knowledge of Chinese and will receive extensive orientation before leaving for China.

This course will count toward the specialization of student's choice and will satisfy the International Business requirement.

Beijing, Shangai, Yangtze River, Chonqing June 8-June 23

$2698, 3 Credits, MBAMKT 680
$650, 3 Credits, MBAMKT 696, Optional Independent Study

For program details, contact:
Professor Raymond Liu
617.287.7739
raymond.liu@umb.edu

Applications are reviewed every week until week of April 12. Early applications are strongly encouraged since space is limited.

Haiti Today: People, Culture and Politics

The program will take place on various campuses of L'Université d'Etat d'Haiti located in Port-au-Prince, and also with partnering institution, L'Université Publique du Sud aux Cayes (UPSAC), and Cap-Haïtien (UPNCH). Students will study Haiti's history, politics, culture, and current economic and social changes taking place, from both external and internal perspectives. With the program based in Les Cayes and Montrouis, students will visit significant historical, cultural, and ecological sites and will also enjoy excursions to Cap Haitien, Milot and the beautiful resort town of Jacmel.

Haiti July 8-August 2

$3475

WAIT LISTED

Theatre in London

This summer the English and Performing Arts Departments will jointly offer students an opportunity to study English theatre stateside and then travel to the great city of London, international center for performance and the arts, to experience first-hand original dramatic productions. The theatre experience in London will be intense: students can expect to attend 10 or more productions during their stay. However, in addition to this serious exploration of theatre, ample time will be allocated for students to explore and appreciate London's other offerings, including visits to some of the city's most famous museums and cultural centers.

Graduate level credit in English is possible by special arrangement. Applicants interested in graduate credit must obtain permission from Eve Sorum, Graduate Program Director, before registering in the program.

Field Study, Off-Campus Programs & Summer Institutes

Field study programs, off-campus programs and summer institutes are opportunities to immerse yourself in an active summer learning experience that transcends conventional classroom routines. You'll be rolling up your sleeves and getting your hands dirty, whether you're taking part in an archaeological dig, finding inspiration in the light, landscape, flora and fauna of Nantucket Island, or joining fellow scholars and professionals for in-depth exploration of topics in American studies, languages, and education.

Please note that program fees do not cover all costs associated with the program; for more details, go to www.umb.edu/academics/caps/summer_programs, or contact Elaine Sullivan (elaine.sullivan@umb.edu; 617.287.7915).

To apply for any of these programs, please see contact information listed in each program.

Field Schools in Archaeology

Archaeology on the Eastern Pequot Reservation
N. Stonington, Connecticut June 30-August 2

In collaboration with the Eastern Pequot Tribal Nation for its ninth season, the field school will conduct testing and excavation at 17th- through 19th century sites as part of the ongoing effort to understand Pequot responses to European colonialism and reservation life. Students will receive training in techniques such as map-making, subsurface surveying, excavation, artifact processing, and material culture identification. Ethics, heritage, and politics in contemporary archaeology will also be explored.

This course offers a unique opportunity for students to participate in a collaborative and engaged archaeology alongside Native American community members - including tribal leaders, elders, adults, and youth - in a joint effort to recover aspects of Pequot history in southern New England.

Hassanamesit Woods Project
Grafton, Massachusetts May 28-June 28

Optional directed study following Field School July 1 – July 12

Sponsored by the Department of Anthropology in conjunction with the Andrew Fiske Center for Archaeological Research, this field program is designed for graduate and advanced undergraduate students in anthropology, archaeology, history, and American Studies. Students will gain training in large-scale block excavation, stratigraphic interpretation, field recording, material culture identification and mapping. Students will also have the opportunity to work with specialists from the Fiske Center who specialize in geophysical testing and remote sensing, paleoethnobotany, zooarchaeology, and soils analysis.

Students also have the opportunity to sign up for an optional two-week extension of the field school that will focus on the processing of material culture from the Boston and Newman Farmsteads in the laboratory. This phase of the project will involve material culture identification, analysis and conservation.

Project 400: Plymouth Colony Survey May 28-June 28
Plymouth, Massachusetts

This summer's work will help launch "Project 400: The Plymouth Colony Archaeological Survey," a broad project of site survey and excavation leading up the 400th anniversary of the founding of the Colony in 2020. In 2013 the focus will be on surface reconnaissance and mapping of a series of sites, shallow geophysical remote sensing, and test excavations in downtown Plymouth. Through daily archaeological fieldwork and laboratory analysis students will learn the process of field recording, mapping, excavation, sample collection, and basic artifact analysis in historical archaeology. The course includes a special emphasis on shallow geophysics for mapping subsurface deposits, and students will learn how remote sensing techniques are applied to site analysis, excavation, and interpretation.

This project will be directed by Professor David Landon and run in collaboration with Professor. John Steinberg of UMass Boston and Karin Goldstein, PhD, at Plimoth Plantation. During the class we will be working out of Plimoth Plantation's facilities and collaborating on site interpretation and public outreach with the museum staff.

AMERICAN STUDIES SUMMER INSTITUTE
AMERICANS ALL?: IMAGINING CITIZENSHIP, PAST AND PRESENT

John F. Kennedy Presidential Library July 8-July 19

caps.umb.edu/summerinstitute/amst

An intensive, graduate-level, two-week program of informative, thought-provoking lectures and discussions led by distinguished scholars and guests.

This year's program will consider citizenship as a legal, social, and cultural category throughout American history and today. We will evaluate how conceptualizations of belonging have been defined, contested, and reimagined. We will look not only at how individual citizenship and "American" identity have been constructed historically, but we will also study the alternating currents of inclusion and exclusion that have shaped the historical experiences of particular groups in their intentional communities and in those constructed by states, the nation, and other forces in the larger world..

The Institute will be directed by Patricia A. Reeve, Assistant Professor of History at Suffolk University, and Education Specialist Nina Tisch of the John F. Kennedy Presidential Library and Museum.

Graduate students, educators and others are welcome with permission of instructor.

CONVENTICULUM BOSTONIENSE: LATIN BY THE SEA
DARTMOUTH, MA JULY 27-AUGUST 4

VOCAMUS VOS, O MAGISTRI, UT LINGUAM LATINAM NOBISCUM IN ORA MARITIMA COLATIS!

The Conventiculum Bostoniense is a full-immersion residential experience, specifically designed for teachers in schools and universities who want to gain some ability to communicate ex-tempore in correct Latin on a wide range of subjects. Participants will enhance and develop their own abilities to express themselves in Latin, both in speaking and writing, and at the same time will explore various ways to employ active Latin in the classroom to enhance the learning experience of their students. After the first evening's arrival and orientation session, participants will speak Latin exclusively with one another and the faculty for seven days.

Two different graduate level courses are offered during the Conventiculum, one for first time attendees and one for returning participants. As a participant in the Conventiculum, you will also have the option to take courses for either two or three credits.

Applications received after this date will be considered if space is available.

$1410, 2 graduate credits
$1870, 3 graduate credits

Audit Option

This option is designed for school teachers over the age of 60 or college faculty who would like to attend the Conventiculum but who do not need graduate credit for their participation.

HAITIAN CREOLE SUMMER LANGUAGE AND CULTURE INSTITUTE
BOSTON CAMPUS JUNE 17-JULY 5

caps.umb.edu/summerinstitute/haitiancreole

The Haitian Creole Summer Language and Culture Institute is conducted under the joint collaboration of the Africana Studies Department, the Haitian Studies Program, and the College of Advancing and Professional Studies. All instructors are native speakers of Haitian Creole.

The Institute is a three-week intensive program in Beginner, Intermediate and Advanced Haitian Creole, a course in translation techniques for advanced students, and a class taught in Kreyòl which delivers the linguistic and cultural background needed for students who plan to continue their studies through research and service to Haitian communities. In addition to class work, all courses make use of cultural activities to enhance the study of the language. Evaluation of student achievement and proficiency for placement and progress will be conducted both informally and formally during and at the conclusion of the course.

Outside the classroom time, students will also have volunteer opportunities in field work with different Haitian community-based organizations and agencies.

Haitian Creole I (Beginner) LANGINST 002

This intensive beginning-level course is intended for students with no knowledge of Haitian Creole. In small-group teaching sessions, students will be prepared for conversational fluency with basic reading and writing skills, emphasizing communicative competence as well as grammatical and phonetic techniques.

5:00-8:30pm, MTuWThF
$680
Class No 1339

Haitian Creole II (Intermediate) LANGINST 003

Skills acquired in this intermediate level course will enable students to participate actively in most social and cultural conversations. Sufficient writing and reading comprehension skills will be practiced and studied with the use of intermediate vocabulary and grammatical forms.

5:00-8:30pm, MTuWThF
$680
Class No 1341

Haitian Creole III (Advanced) LANGINST 004

At the advanced level, students will achieve a high degree of fluency and precision of vocabulary, enabling them to perform sophisticated activities. Students will be able to speak, read, and write as well as use colloquialisms, proverbs, riddles, and "contes" (jokes).

5:00-8:30pm, MTuWThF
$680
Class No 1345

Techniques of Haitian Creole Translation LANGINST 005

This course is geared towards the native or advanced Creole language speaker who wishes to be certified as a translator or as a court interpreter. It provides participants with ample opportunities to apply techniques and skills through a series of translation assignments which form the basis for class discussion. Participants will have intensive practice in translating a variety of genres and styles both literary and non-literary. They will also be trained in techniques of consecutive and simultaneous interpretation and sight translation. Emphasis is given to accuracy, speed, delivery, command of professional lexicon, and awareness of the relationship between language and culture.

5:00-8:30pm, MTuWThF
$680
Class No 1344

Chinese Language Camp

CHINA PROGRAM CENTER caps.umb.edu/china/

Mandarin Language Summer Camp
Bentley University, Waltham JULY 8-26

Available for students in grades 6-12 and taught by experienced Chinese language instructors, Mandarin Language Summer Camp offers four skill levels of Chinese, Novice Parts 1 & 2, Intermediate Parts 1 & 2 and Advanced Part 1.

This year we will focus the language curriculum around the theme of "Contemporary Life" which will compare daily routines of families, schools and neighborhoods found in China and the U.S. With each class having a sub-theme, the vocabulary, dialogue topics and projects will enable students to learn quickly and at an appropriate level, while the camp-wide theme and activities will facilitate students speaking Chinese to each other. Additional classroom-connected activities are Chinese morning exercises and games as well as a field trip to a 19th Century Chinese House!

Camp tuition: Fee $350

Camp schedule: Monday through Friday, 9:00am-4:00pm.

Applications are available caps.umb.edu/china/, after March 15.

About Online Learning

Many of the courses and programs in this bulletin—marked with the symbol—are available online. UMass Boston has been offering online courses and programs through the College of Advancing and Professional Studies for almost a decade, and our online offerings and instructors have won numerous awards. Through UMass Online, the University's systemwide distance learning agency, UMass Boston's online programs reach national and international markets—including China, where a 2008 agreement made the University of Massachusetts the first foreign university approved to offer online courses and degree programs in China.

Our online courses have been developed by UMass Boston faculty and use the Blackboard Learn 9 course management system. Faculty receive detailed training on running courses in a virtual classroom and students electing to take online courses will find a responsive Help Desk to answer technical questions and a very dynamic online student community.

If you need further information about UMass Boston online courses, contact Jason Campos (617.287.7912; jason.campos@umb.edu) or visit caps.umb.edu/dl.

English as a Second Language (ESL)

caps.umb.edu/esl

The programs in English as a Second Language offered by the College of Advancing and Professional Studies are designed for individuals seeking to communicate more effectively in English and improve their performance in professional, academic, and social environments.

The content and methods used in all courses are chosen to maximize students' language development. Therefore, strong emphasis is placed on language learning skills and strategies, and students' personal and professional interests, needs, and backgrounds are carefully considered. Instruction in each class includes a grammar review at the appropriate level, integrated with practice in listening comprehension, oral expression, reading, writing, vocabulary building, and pronunciation.

ESL Students - You must register in person with Andrea Macone, 617.287.7876. Office: Wheatley Hall, W-1-003.

Assessment and Course Placement

To ensure that students are placed in appropriate courses and levels, they must attend an assessment session. The session consists of several types of tests: grammar, listening and reading comprehension, and a writing sample. There is also an interview with a program instructor.

For evening programs, the assessment session is completed at the first scheduled class meeting. For full-time programs, the assessment process is more comprehensive. Tests are completed over the first few days of the semester, and take place in conjunction with a variety of classroom and orientation activities. Formal classes begin only after the orientation period.

Intensive English Programs

Classes take place Monday through Friday between 9:00am and 4:00pm, for a total of 20-24 hours per week. Participants are placed in classes appropriate to their level of proficiency after initial assessment and orientation sessions.

UMass Boston will supply an I-20 form enabling students to apply for an F-1 visa for Intensive English programs.

University Preparation ESL-NC 002

Participants seeking university placement enroll in University Preparation. Coursework includes subject matter typical of the university, and training in academic skills is offered, including note-taking; listening to academic lectures; academic writing and research; oral presentations; critical and creative thinking; and time-management. In addition, TOEFL test preparation and assistance in the college admission process are offered. Advanced students may audit regular university classes by special permission. Computer lab time is scheduled for participants who wish to develop their "e-literacy" and computer skills, including presentation skills, building web pages, web-based research, and word-processing skills.

Participants enjoy full access privileges to the educational resources of UMass Boston, including use of the library, computer labs, fitness centers, and health clinic.

Boston Area Advanced Technological Education Connections (BATEC)

Boston Area Advanced Technological Education Connections (BATEC) is a National Science Foundation-funded Center of Excellence working to develop and promote a coordinated, self-sustaining regional education and workforce development system for IT —one that will attract a diverse student population to IT and IT-enabled careers, promote lifelong learning of technical skills, and support the technology workforce needs of the region. BATEC is a partnership of UMass Boston, six community colleges, and thirty high school districts, although our events are open to educators from across all regions. Our partners are transforming education to develop the new IT professional for the 21st century by developing curriculum, providing professional development experiences for educators, attracting and advancing a diverse population of technology students, and connecting education, industry and community to promote mutually beneficial partnerships that support career development, lifelong learning and regional economic growth.

China Program Center

The China Program Center at the UMass Boston seeks to advance scholarly and business collaborations between China and America through innovative programs including practical training, trade missions, government exchanges, and joint academic ventures. The Center provides tools needed to build successful American-Chinese joint ventures, bringing business and cultural knowledge about the two countries to its audiences through innovative academic courses, training sessions, internships, workshops, and mentorships.

The Center addresses critical needs both for Chinese audiences (global leadership skills, university faculty training, and degree programs) and for American audiences (knowledge of how to do business in China, China-based cultural programs, and courses on best practices in the teaching of Mandarin).

Confucius Institute for Chinese Language and Culture

The University of Massachusetts Confucius Institute at UMass Boston was established in collaboration with Renmin University of China and The High School Affiliated to Renmin University of China, with the sponsorship and authorization of Hanban, the Office of Chinese Language Council International, under the Ministry of Education, China.

The mission of the Confucius Institute is to promote understanding of Chinese language and culture in the communities served by the University. Through courses, conferences, travel, and cultural events, the Institute will provide opportunities for cultural exchange and collaboration between the US and China.

Chinese Language Instruction

Credit courses which intertwine language instruction with cultural awareness, serving students at all skill levels from basic Mandarin for business and travel to more advanced study.

Seminars in Chinese Culture

Cultural seminars that illuminate topics such as the Chinese political system, economic development, values and etiquette, philosophy, and Confucianism in management.

Programs for Teachers of Chinese

Teacher training programs, American cultural awareness training, and professional workshops for teachers of Chinese.

Conferences and Forums

Conferences and forums organized by the Institute will offer platforms for communication between educators and business people from both countries.

Travel

Tours that will bring students, educators and business people from the US to China and from China to the US, providing opportunities to strengthen language skills through immersion and deepen cultural awareness through direct experience.

Marine Studies Consortium

UMass Boston is a member of the Marine Studies Consortium, an association of Massachusetts higher education and research institutions whose mission is to increase understanding of coastal and marine ecosystems and to promote policies that protect aquatic resources.

The consortium teaches evening undergraduate courses in marine/aquatic sciences and environmental management.

Academic Program

Our academic program offers classes in marine and aquatic sciences, environmental policy, and environmental management. Our Biology of Fishes course is offered at the New England Aquarium. It may be the only ichthyology course in the world where students use the resources of a major aquarium at every class meeting. Other courses, such as Whale Biology and Conservation, Water Resources Management, and Maritime History of New England, are offered nowhere else in New England at the undergraduate level. Courses are held during the evenings on the campuses of our member institutions.
